

Agile Leadership

A training for executives in the digital age

Organisations are currently facing profound challenges through the emergence of new technologies and the disruption of successful but outdated business models. Digital transformation is not limited to bits and bytes. Every aspect of the value chain is affected. Corporate leaders are becoming multipliers of the agile transformation. Our seminar on principles and methods of agile leadership offers you the know-how that you need to navigate through the agile and digital world.

What you will learn

- What are the central drivers of agile leadership?
- Which leadership and management behaviours support innovation and entrepreneurship?
- How do I transform rigid job descriptions into flexible role concepts?
- As a leader, how can I enact new forms of decision making, thus empowering my staff?
- How do I lead in networks?
- What are the tools that can help me increase the agility of my teams and my organisation?
- How do I lead the agile transformation?
